My Dear Mrs McKenzie.

It will be impossible for me to see you at the party next Thursday eve. As she is dead on to you. Please don't call at the house any more. She has hooked you up, and says that you are living with your second husband and little boy at your mothers Mrs Higgins on St Botolph St. she says that you ran away from your first husband, whose name was Hackett. She knows you all right. I told her that I did not know all that. She will have a job to find out which one is your hubby now.

Don't show Rose

Yours in haste

L
